

WILL QUERY COURT ON BUCKS CO. FIRE MARSHAL'S STATUS

Executive Board of County Firemen's Ass'n Decides On Such Action

NUMEROUS ANGLES

Set-Up of A Volunteer Medical Corps for Atom Bombing Considered

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 1 — The executive board of the Bucks County Firemen's Association has decided to carry the question of the status of Robert Graham, Chalfont, fire marshal of the association, to the Bucks County Court, and the county commissioners for a final solution.

The responsibilities of the fire marshal, and the set-up of the volunteer medical corps for atom bombing was given consideration at a meeting of the executive board here Friday evening.

The status of Graham as county fire marshal and whether or not he could be sworn in as a deputy sheriff has been under consideration for some time by the county association. The matter was referred to Arthur M. Eastburn, attorney, who advised the board that Harry Ross, recently-elected sheriff, expressed reluctance to appoint as deputy sheriff anyone except his regular deputies, since that person would then hold full power and yet be used only for fire investigation.

It was pointed out by Ralph K. Wasser, president of the association, that Mr. Graham required the authority in order to investigate fires, particularly those of possible incendiary origin. Mr. Eastburn then called attention to the by-laws, which do not require the actual investigation of fires by the marshal, but designate his duties as a recorder of cause, damage, equipment used and control of the fire.

Mr. Eastburn recalled that County Detective William L. Staghouse, Continued on Page Two

Child Crushed To Death Under Wheels of Truck

KELLERS CHURCH, Mar. 1 — Backing out of a lane at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nicholas, of near here, the driver of a milk truck is said to have caused the death of Randolph M. Nicholas, 2½-year-old son of the Nicholases.

The child was found dead by his father about 20 minutes after the truck driven by H. Walter Johnson, 24, of Kellers Church had left.

Johnson was making his rounds for Earl Scholl, Perkasie milk collector for the Lehigh Valley Cooperative at Allentown, when he made his regular call at the Nicholas home. No one recalls having seen the boy near the truck as it was being loaded.

The driver backed the truck out the lane, as usual, and went on his way. When the father found the child, evidently lifeless, he called Dr. Ralph Worrall, Riegelsville, who said that he had died of internal injuries and a skull fracture.

Meanwhile, the father telephoned to a farm in Durham about 15 miles away, where he knew Johnson would be making another stop, and notified the farmer there to send the driver back. Johnson did not know of the tragedy until he returned to the Nicholas home.

He surrendered to Private J. J. Shovelin, of the State Police, Doylestown detail, and was released in $1,000 bail by Magistrate Russell Ferris, of Ottsville. He is charged with involuntary manslaughter.

Deputy Coroner Frederick Ort, of Quakertown, issued a certificate of accidental death.

Top-Ranking Leaders Meet At Annual P. M. A. Dinner

CITES SERIOUSNESS OF SCHOOL SITUATION

Pres't of Central Board Says Taxes Might Go Up As Much As 30 Mills

URGES HEAD TAX, $15

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 1a — The seriousness of the school situation was emphasized by Frank H. Trembly, Jr., president of Central Bucks Joint School Board here, when he declared that the taxes might go up as much as 15 to 30 mills.

Trembly, who spoke at Friday's meeting in this borough, reminded "I think each of the eight school districts should present a united front and raise the per capita tax to $15."

With school directors from the three boroughs—Doylestown, New Britain and Chalfont and five townships, Buckingham, Doylestown, New Britain, Plumstead and Warminster—in attendance, President Trembly said the $15 per capita tax is necessary if real estate is not to be taxed to the extreme. "Because of the change in state reimbursement fraction, the amount of rental from the state and the amount of state aid, it will be necessary to consider three methods of increasing taxes," President Trembly urged as follows: first, the $15 per capita tax; second, real estate transfer tax; and third, increase the millage. A Doylestown director, Robert H. Lippincott, objected to the real estate transfer tax because it runs into quite a large amount and is passed on to the buyer instead of the seller of real estate. Also it must be paid immediately when the settlement is made, sometimes amounting to several hundred dollars.

President Trembly pointed out that about $149.90 will be needed to begin to operate the new $2,225,000 junior-senior high school. Adjuncting to the second floor assembly room, following the dinner, there was a short business session after which the address of the evening was made by John Boardman, engineer of the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin with offices in Philadelphia.

In opening the meeting John R. May, of Langhorne, vice president of the Bucks County Boroughs Association, presiding, called for the introduction of newly-elected members of borough councils of the various communities. Dr. John A. Flood, Burgess of New Hope, ex-

HEAR TALK ON WATER

NEW HOPE, Mar. 1 — Conservation of water at the small community level must be practiced or else hundreds of millions of dollars must be spent to impound flood waters and then distribute them, was the opinion expressed last evening, when 92 representatives of 17 of the 22 boroughs in Bucks County met here. It was the regular meeting of the Bucks County Boroughs Association which was held in Eagle fire station. Previous to the meeting a dinner was served by a group of women. The diners were seated at long tables decorated in the national colors. Captain George C. Butler, Doylestown, invoked the blessing. A delicious baked ham dinner was served.

ENTRANCE FORCED AT BENSLEM HIGH SCHOOL DURING NIGHT; SUPPLIES AND CASH STOLEN; ROOMS ARE DISTURBED

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Mar. 1 — Students at Bensalem township high school were dismissed this morning following the discovery that the high school building had been considerably disturbed by burglars, who had forced an entrance to the building during the night.

Detailed statements as to the loss incurred, damage done, or the manner in which an entrance was gained was not forthcoming. A. Kurtz King, supervising principal of the district, is in Atlantic City attending a convention; and his assistant, high school principal Miss Cecelia Snyder, and also Robert Vansant, president of the board of directors, declined to give out details until state police had arrived from Langhorne barracks to make an investigation.

Fragmentary rumors gained from unofficial sources indicate that entrance was gained by removing doors. Some money was stolen, it is stated, as well as supplies from the cafeteria.

In the cafeteria as well as in a number of rooms throughout the school various items had been disturbed, it is reported.

The pupils were dismissed shortly before 10.30 so that things might be in readiness for inspection when police arrived.

YOUTH CENTER PLANS REVEALED BY BOARD

Stone Foundation, Heavy Flooring At Newtown In Good Condition

A CHANGE OF PLANS

NEWTOWN, Mar. 1—A change in plans for the Neshaminy Valley Youth Center are announced.

Plans, which call for renovation of the old foundry on North State street for a recreation building, are revealed by the vice-president of the youth center board, Robert Sheeran.

Original plans, calling for the destruction of the foundry and the erection of a new building on the site, were abandoned by the board several weeks ago, Sheeran said. "We switched plans in mid-stream," he explained, "because we feel that by fixing up the old foundry we'll be able to provide a lot more of the needed facilities. Besides, we'll get all these extra features at a cheaper cost than the original plans," he added.

Pointing out that the stone foundation and heavy flooring are in excellent condition, Sheeran said the new center will comprise two floors for public use.

The basement will be converted into a large recreation room for table tennis and pool tables and shuffleboard. The room will be adequate for small wedding receptions. Also slated to be constructed in the basement will be two lavatories. Continued on Page Four

Suggests Adoption of Anti-BB Gun Ordinance

Adoption of anti-BB gun ordinances was urged in letters sent yesterday to the mayors, burgesses and presidents of township commissioners in Bucks county by Melvin L. Sutley, superintendent of Wills Hospital, Philadelphia.

Sutley said he was acting as the result of numerous letters and telephone calls he had received from parents in other counties, asking whether the new Philadelphia law applied in their communities.

"I am convinced that people in general are in favor of prohibiting this type of dangerous toy, not only from the letters and telephone calls we have received, but from the enthusiastic and spontaneous endorsement of school authorities, Parent-Teacher Associations, the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, the County Medical Association, the SPCA and many other civic organizations, as well as the press and a number of law enforcement officers."

ORDINANCE TO BAN FIREWORKS PLANT

Bristol Tw'p Supervisors To Consider Law On Friday

LIKELY TO ADOPT IT

Supervisors of Bristol township have announced that at a meeting to be held Friday afternoon at one o'clock, an ordinance prohibiting the manufacture, sale or exposure of fireworks within the township will be acted upon.

The submission of the ordinance for action by the supervisors follows a controversy of the past few weeks, after it was announced that a fireworks manufacturing firm was seeking a location for a plant on Ford road. Bucks County Fire Marshal Robert Graham submitted the application for discussion to the Bucks County Fire Chiefs Association, and the matter was also considered at a meeting of the Bristol Township Civic Association.

The ordinance, if enacted, would prohibit any person, firm or corporation engaged in the manufacture, sale or exposure of fireworks within the township, subject to a fine of not less than $25 and not more than $100, and in default of payment to be imprisoned in Bucks county jail for a period not exceeding 30 days. The same penalty might be imposed for each and every day during which the ordinance is violated.

The provisions of the ordinance do not apply to any person, firm or corporation engaged in the manufacture, sale or exposure of fireworks at the date of its enactment. If, however, such firm, person or corporation should discontinue for a period of 30 consecutive days or longer, their right to operate would be forfeited.

MORRISVILLE MAN IS CONVICTED OF THEFT OF CHICKENS

Jury Deliberates Short Time In Case Involving Wm. Cutler

SENTENCED TO PRISON

Carlo Lomonica Tells of Seeing Cutler With Chickens In His Hands

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 1—Charged with the theft of thirty chickens from the henery of Carlo Lomonica on the Kings Farms in Falls township on the night of July 13, a Morrisville man was convicted yesterday by a jury of five women and seven men in Judge Edward G. Biester's court.

The defendant is William Cutler, 26, of 530 Walnut St. The jury deliberated but a short time after which Cutler was sentenced by Judge Biester to pay the costs and serve from three to 23 months in the Bucks County Prison.

When the case started there were two other defendants—William and Bernice Parody, of 87 Huston Alley, Trenton, but the court advised them to withdraw the plea of not guilty, for they are now serving sentences in the county prison of 6 to 23 months and 4 to 23 months respectively on charges of pandering and prostitution.

The case was tried by Assistant District Attorney Donald W. Van-Artsdalen, with Attorney T. Sidney Cadwallader, of Yardley.

Carlo Lomonica testified that he heard some noises outside his home, near the chicken house, on the night of July 13, and went out to investigate. He said that he saw a man standing in the chicken coop with six chickens in his hands—three in each hand. The man also had a flashlight in his hand, Lomonica told the court.

At this point in the trial, Lomonica was asked to point to the man in question if he was in the court room.

"That's the guy; that's the rat over there," Lomonica answered as he pointed a finger at Cutler, seated at the defense table. The court advised the jury to disregard any names that the witness called the defendant.

The defendant denied stealing chickens from the Lomonica place. Instead he said that he purchased some chickens from another party, but this was later contradicted by a Commonwealth witness who was called in rebuttal.

By Walter Kiernan

Mr. Bevin has been in and out of the hospital since the election. . . . Doctors found nothing wrong except that he doesn't hear the voice of the people quite as clearly as he thought.

It just goes to show the ingratitude of people. . . . The British citizen has been given all manner of free services yet he seems to resent being taxed into the ground for them.

Comment in Washington is still restrained. . . . Feeling seems to be that Conservatives, Laborites and Republicans don't interfere in our elections and we shouldn't interfere in theirs.

The way it looks now, the Government will have to call another election within a few months or risk a vote of "no confidence." . . . That's one of the main differences in our election system.

Over here you don't need confidence after election . . . just before election.

WILLIAM N. HARDY

In the death of William N. Hardy, manager of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, the newspapers of Pennsylvania have lost a valuable friend. Mr. Hardy worked long and hard to advance the interests of the newspapers of the Keystone state and had brought them to the top of the profession.

Mr. Hardy, well known through Pennsylvania newspaper circles, began his newspaper career when 17 but devoted much of it to the management of the Pennsylvania Publishers Association, one of the largest state organizations of its kind in the Nation.

When Mr. Hardy came to the PNPA in 1929, he took charge of an organization comprised of segments of five previous associations.

It then had a membership of little more than half of the press of Pennsylvania. Today, the PNPA has a membership of 302 daily, weekly and Sunday papers—practically all the daily and Sunday papers and a majority of the weeklies.

Mr. Hardy has been credited with the establishment of Newspaper Week which developed into a national promotion each October. He served as first national chairman of the event after it had been started as a Pennsylvania affair. From point of service, Mr. Hardy was one of the oldest publishers' association managers in the country.

To the newspaper men who knew him "Bill" was more than the manager of their association. He was a friend always ready to aid and give advice. He was exceptionally well qualified for the position he held.

PRESS AT MANCHESTER

More than 150 reporters and feature writers are gathered at Manchester, N. H., whence is issuing, each 24 hours, a file of 200,000 words of telegraphic information and comment. The telegraphic file at Flemington, N. J., during the Hauptmann trial for the Lindbergh kidnapping, ran to about 250,000 words daily. It is clear, therefore, that the trial of Dr. Herman N. Sander for murder promises to take journalistic rank with some of the most spectacular trials ever held in the United States. The basic issue in the Sander trial is euthanasia. That is the reason for the enormous press coverage.

This is not a murder trial of the sensational order, but a trial verging upon a broad philosophic problem—here a medical, legal and religious problem. Without doubt some serious errors of taste are committed when the fancier type of feature writers are hired to do special jobs at famous trials. Nothing of this sort is thus far suggested at Manchester, where the atmosphere is as serious as the question at issue—whether human life is ever to be taken to put an end to the suffering of a patient afflicted with an incurable illness.

though state aid will be received after the first year, it will take about $98,000 to carry on after that.

When the new school opens its doors to start the "ball rolling" will take about the following amounts from the districts: Buckingham, $30,700; Chalfont, $6100; Doylestown borough, $41,100; Doylestown Township, $18,900; New Britain borough, $8400; Plumstead, $19,900 and Warrington, $18,700.

Dr. J. Edward Smith, superintendent of the new school, who made a study of the increase in taxes, reported the following increases in millage, if a $15 per capita tax is levied:

Buckingham, 5.6 mills; Chalfont, 1.4; Doylestown borough, 6; Doylestown twp., 5.1; New Britain twp., 1.9; New Britain borough, even; Plumstead, 3.2, and Warrington, 3.1. Operational costs based on a percentage of the assessed valuations are as follows: Buckingham, 20.59 percent; Chalfont, 4.184; Doylestown, 27.751; Doylestown twp., 12.6482; New Britain borough, 3.3487; New Britain twp., 5.6009; Plumstead, 13.3657, and Warrington, 12.5252.

Beginning joint operation in July, the district will pay a rental of $16 per high school student to Doylestown and $19 to Buckingham High School.

President Tremblay, who said the school board is only 30 days away from a bulk payment to the architect, pointed out the need for $75,000 as a partial down-payment to the architect.

To make up the $75,000, the individual school districts will have the following amounts to pay: Buckingham, $15,000 or 20 percent; Chalfont, $3,000 or four per cent; Doylestown borough, $21,000 or 28 percent; Doylestown twp., $9750 or 13 percent; New Britain borough, $2250 or three percent; New Britain twp., $4500 or six percent; Plumstead and Warrington, $9750 or 13 percent.

To raise $20,000 for an immediate payment to the architect and $10,000 for the additional Burpee acreage, a motion was passed to make an assessment of $30,000 against the joint board pro-rata before April 1.

Tremblay reported a $9,000 bill from the architect now for the work he has done so far. The architects' final bill will be $89,700 and $14,000 has been paid, leaving about $85,000 to handle.

As soon as the plans are approved by the State Authority and have been accepted, the U. S. Government will pay the joint board $12,000.

William H. Satterthwaite, counselor for the board, pointed out the joint board has no power to borrow money, but that each component board must pay on a pro-rata obligation.

The eight individual boards may borrow two percent of their assessed valuation or float a bond issue. When the State Authority has approved the plans and literally owns the building, the sum of $75,000 will be received from the state with the joint board paying what amounts to a rental for practically 40 years until the joint school district owns the new mammoth school. Dr. Joseph Kershner, treasurer, reported $6,541 in the treasury.

The architects' total fee is $138,000 or six percent of the complete cost, $2,300,000.

ting and evaluating their unit activities. The teachers have been resourceful in exchanging materials with other school districts within Bucks County which are also working on this particular phase of the social living program. Illustrative material from the State Department of Education has been borrowed for teacher study. In their enthusiasm to bring new ideas to their respective classrooms five of the Bensalem teachers visited a "Latin American Fiesta," presented recently by the upper grades at the New Britain school. Teachers making the trip included Miss Virginia Neely and Miss Mary Kerns, Trevoise; Mrs. Iona Stump, Andalusia; Miss Isabelle McCoy, Cornwells Heights; and Mrs. Cornwells.

Howard H. Gendron, Trevoise school principal, commented on the high pupil interest evidenced during this study of Mexico. After the tea, parents showed much interest in examining notebooks, reference material used by the pupils, and in the display of arts

Driving The Car To School Is A Dangerous Privilege

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

A FEW parents have already agreed to let their son or daughter drive a car to high school. Some have been weighing the matter for months or arguing it with their child.

If there is no school bus or public transportation for distances beyond two or three miles from school there is some argument for the car. If it can be handled with reasonable safety. But there are relatively few cases that would fit into these conditions. For most youths allowed to drive a car to high school it is not a matter of distance or lack of public transportation but a lack of parental wisdom and control.

Few Blocks Away

We can't blame the youth for wanting to drive a car to school even if it's only a few blocks away. It makes him the envy of the other students. He can feel very important and haul about his classmates and thus buy the temporary friendship of many he could not otherwise secure.

In the first place, drivers of high school age are, as a rule, the most dangerous drivers. And their urge to show off about the school grounds and to fill the car with schoolmates just for joy rides add to the menace. The danger is not only to pedestrians near the school grounds but also to the young persons in the car and to other drivers on the streets and highways. In general, too, the driving of cars to school impairs the discipline and morale of the student body.

Distance to School

If, because of great distance to school and lack of public transportation, a student is allowed by his parents to drive to school, the parents should go over with him certain rules of safety (no joy rides or crowding of the car, no speeding or showing off and the like) and check enough to be sure he observes these rules, forfeiting his privilege to drive the car upon the first known violation of these rules. Parents might, to these ends, check with the school principal and respect his advice.

Parents who let their child drive a car to school and use it about the school in a way that clearly is dangerous to lives, are literally partners in crime with their children. Why should parents choose to encourage human slaughter?

Cost Involved

Even if the youth is a paragon of safety the cost involved in his running and operating his own car to drive to school, except in the instances noted, does not warrant his driving this car to school, no matter how much money his parents have.

But some parents will nurture selfishness in their child by permitting him to drive the family car to school regularly or occasionally, just for luxury. In doing so the father may choose to ride common carriers or walk great distances to work and the mother may choose to stay home or to walk where she needs to go for recreation or for shopping. Sometimes she will walk and tote heavy packages of food from the grocery while her son has the family car at school. Often then she may wonder why her children are so unappreciative of her kindness to them. She fails to see that the more such self-sacrifices for them she makes, the more ungrateful they become.

who had been fire marshal for 14 years, was appointed as a deputy sheriff, but he also pointed out that at that time, with an "epidemic" of fires of possible incendiary origin to solve, there were no county detectives nor as many State police available as at present. Raymond Strunk in turn, he said, had been appointed as deputy by Mr. Stackhouse, who was then serving as sheriff. Mr. Wasser explained that although Mr. Strunk served and was legally recognized as such, the records did not show that he had ever been legally sworn in as a deputy sheriff.

It was suggested that, since the title of marshal, seemed misleading, the office might possibly be abolished in the future, in favor of a recording secretary. A suggestion was also made that it be brought to the attention of the proper authorities that Marshal Graham be recommended for the large sum of money spent in previous investigations of ty. He added that should the fire companies refuse to head the set-up, the army would then be compelled to take over. He urged haste in organizing.

Instruction, he said, would be given in military tactics and first aid would go far beyond any that has been given civilians previously, including the employment of drugs, plasma and injections. The old air raid warden system, he said, would be discarded.

It was decided to present the facts to all the firemen of the county at a special meeting to be held in the court house or armory.

Nominating Committee Named By Auxiliary

The Fleetwing Estates Women's Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. John O'Grady, last evening. Mrs. Carl Lindberg was hostess.

Mrs. Lindberg informed members that six boys in the community are eligible for Cub Scouts, should the group be able to start a den.

Five girls will be eligible for Brownies, this year, from Fleetwing Estates. Although it had been thought there would not be room for these girls in the troop which the organization sponsors, Mrs. Lindberg said that, since another mother is assisting the troop there will be room. The Brownie Troop will celebrate its first year in May. As a birthday present, the auxiliary voted to present them with a flag staff and holder. During the recent Girl Scout cookie sale, members were also informed, 75 per cent of the homes in Fleetwing Estates purchased cookies.

Concerning this project of shade trees for the community, the secretary Mrs. Robert Hyatt, informed that not one of the many organizations to whom she had written for information had replied. It was decided to contact a commercial nursery for estimates.

A nominating committee, consisting of Mrs. John O'Grady and Mrs.

William Patterson, was appointed to prepare nominations for election in March. Hamburgers, relishes and coffee and tea were served.

Counter Plans Against Duff To Be Mapped

of Naticoke. Duff heads the ticket as a candidate for the U. S. Senatorial nomination.

Leaders allied with former U. S. Sen. Joseph R. Grundy and National Committee-man G. Mason Owlett are awaiting the signal from the two chiefs to launch a vigorous campaign against the Duff-Fine slate.

Cooke sentiment naturally was outstanding at last night's get-together of old-line Republicans and it was apparent that they are ready for a knock-down fight leading to the primary election May 16.

Many top state payrollers who in reality owe their jobs to Duff expressed a preference for Cooke as the party's gubernatorial nominee. Few were opposed to Duff's candidacy.

Malone, who spiked reports that he would be a candidate for lieutenant governor on the Cooke slate, indicated there was no doubt in his mind that a full statewide slate will be offered voters.

He refused, however, to speculate on candidates pending the outcome of today's decision whether Cooke will make the primary race bracketed by a full slate.

Should Cooke run a solo race against the Duff-Fine slate it would mean that Grundy-Owlett leaders intend to "cut" Fine in the primary race. In brief, the old-line party will go along with Duff for the Senate in return for the support of county organizations.

In a primary election, if voting is largely confined to those loyal to the organization, a ticket-cutting maneuver can be highly successful. The Grundy organization used the device in the 1934 primary.

The PMA, backbone of the old line Republican organization in Pennsylvania, attracted the rank and file of Republican politicians. Among the missing were Duff and Fine.

On hand, in addition to the top brass of the GOP high command, were such luminaries as Cooke, Internal Affairs Secretary William S. Livengood, Jr., candidate for a fourth term on the Duff-Fine slate; State Sen. Lloyd H. Wood, the Duff-Fine candidate for lieutenant governor; former Lt. Gov. and 19-day Gov. John C. Bell, Jr., who has been mentioned as a candidate for the State Supreme Court on the Duff-Fine slate; and Cong. John C. Kunkel, Duff's opponent for the senatorial nomination.

There was no crystallization of sentiment among most Republicans attending the PMA affair to support Kunkel but they agreed he could be built into a top contender by Grundy-Owlett leaders. Unlike Cooke, the Congressman has not been accorded Owlett's endorsement.

Owlett, who broke Duff's hold on the Pennsylvania delegation to the GOP National Convention in 1948, set the tempo for the political talks by lambasting Duff and his Senatorial ambitions as well as his criticism of Grundy leadership.

The national committee-man, who defined what he called "Grundysism" as honest, sensible, straightforward economic government, recalled that Duff did not turn down the former senator's support in 1946 when campaigning for the governorship. Of Duff, Owlett said:

"If I heard him say once I have heard him say 20 times. 'When God made Senator Grundy, he threw the mold away; and now he says: 'Our objective is to eliminate Grundysism.'"

Owlett said the anti-Grundy talk originated with Democrats and that Duff "is hardly on speaking terms" with the men who lifted him from the State Attorney General's office into the Governor's chair.

Duff, Owlett said, "ought to be repudiated by the citizens of this commonwealth" in the primary election.

"Public Speaking" Is Subject of Dr. Katz

ANDALUSIA, Mar. 1—Dr. Samuel Katz, of Bristol, who has as one of his hobbies the teaching of public speaking, addressed Bensalem Rotary Club members last evening at the dinner-session in King Hall.

With "Public Speaking" as his subject, the one who stated that for several years he has been engaged in teaching such, informed how he first became interested in public speaking. He told the Rotarians how a friend of his, invited to a social affair, was called on for remarks. The friend's vain attempt to address the group as he stuttered and stammered impressed Dr. Katz so that he began making a study of addressing groups.

The procedure used in teaching individuals to speak in public was briefly outlined—it being pointed out to the pupil that such is "simply conversation on a larger scale." Dr. Katz claims that most of the trouble, especially with the older folks, is that their lives have been built around inhibitions which must be overcome. Many times such inhibitions are based on their teachings at an early age that "children should be seen and not heard."

The heckling which continues throughout the classes of instruction was mentioned, with eight or ten pupils doing nothing but heckle. This is considered as most helpful to the individual. "If the one trying to speak can continue under such circumstances, he will find no trouble in addressing a quiet audience," commented the Bristolian. Election campaigns conducted within the classes were mentioned as being most helpful. Dr. Katz expressed the belief that much more good would result for the young folks if they were to be taught public speaking in the public schools, rather than have so much time spent on some other subjects.

The guest was introduced by Harold Neal, program director of the club. President William States, Jr., presided.

and a kitchen. A dumbwaiter will be installed to carry food to the first floor.

On the street floor, a large dance floor, accommodating several hundred couples; a main office, a cloak room and five or six small meeting rooms, to be used by various organizations in the community, will be constructed. A large fireplace will be built in the main room, and a balcony will run around the main floor.

Bids for construction work will be accepted by the board as soon as approved plans for the structure are returned from Harrisburg.

Want River Channel Here Dredged To 25-Foot Depth

A plan for dredging the channel of the Delaware river here to a depth of 25 feet was advanced last night at a meeting of political and industrial leaders from three states and Federal Government officials. The meeting was arranged by the Greater Philadelphia-South Jersey Council, and was held at the Ritz-Carlton in Philadelphia.

J. Harry LaBrum, chairman, who presided at the dinner-meeting, outlined the program after a discussion period.

Factors making rehabilitation of the Delaware port area essential, he said, are:

The proposed establishment by 1955 of a U. S. Steel Corp. industrial center near Morrisville, the recent expansion of oil industry installations here and in New Jersey, and the rise of factory output in Trenton.

Maj. William J. Talbot, representing the U. S. Army Engineers here, estimated that the dredging program alone would cost about $16,000,000, including a 10-foot channel at Philadelphia.

CROYDON BUSINESS MEN FETE TEAM OF YOUTH LEAGUE

CROYDON, Mar. 1 — The Croydon A. C. baseball team, of the Bristol Youth League, was fêted at a banquet held at Anton's, Second Avenue and State Road, last night. The affair was sponsored by the Croydon Business Men's Association.

Two large trophies were presented to the team. Thomas Juno, advisor of the Bristol Youth League, presented the trophies to James E. Harris, an honorary member of the Croydon Business Men's Association, who in turn awarded the trophies to Joe Dominick and William Moll, co-captains of the Croydon team. One of the trophies was for winning the championship in 1948 and the other for being runner-up in 1949. The trophies will be displayed at the lingerie shop of Mrs. John P. Heister.

The players and guests enjoyed a delightful menu of fruit juice, salad, roast beef platter, ice cream, coffee, rolls and butter and candies. George Lukens, president of the CBMA, welcomed the players and told them it was a pleasure for the Association to arrange the affair for the youths of Croydon. He explained how the team was started by two players going to the Association and asking for financial assistance. This was granted on the proposition that the boys also go out and earn some of their financial assistance.

"The boys proved themselves capable of all tasks and showed the Business Men's Association what they meant by winning the championship in 1948; being runner-up in 1949, and having intentions of winning in 1950," stated Lukens. Thomas Juno congratulated the team on its fine work and also the manner in which the boys stuck together. He told how the Croydon boys came from behind in the final game of the 1948 playoffs to win the championship at that time things were at their darkest.

"Stick-together for the 1950 season and maybe at the end we will again be able to award you another large trophy instead of a runner-up," were Juno's closing words.

The manager of the Croydon team, Harry McGuckin, spoke a few chosen words. He thanked the players for their co-operation and also the men who aided him with the squad. He also expressed thanks on behalf of the team to the Croydon Business Men's Association for their help and the banquet.

In speaking of the team, Manager McGuckin said: "We have a team, not individuals. We will accomplish better things, this being the beginning and a step in the right direction. We hope we can win in 1950 because of your moral and financial support."

Mr. Harris informed the youths that he was deeply impressed by such a group of young fellows. He spoke of his younger days in Pittsburgh when he managed a group such as the Croydon team and one of his happiest days was when one of the players received a scholarship at Duquesne University.

"This is the beginning of a good team—stick together—play team-work but play fair—it takes nine men to win a game—don't all try to be stars—take your orders from the coach." These were words of advice given by Mr. Harris.

Mr. Harris also advised the boys to start getting the community spirit. He told the youths that Croydon is growing by leaps and bounds. He spoke of the difference in the roads when he came to Croydon to the condition they are to-day.

"It is up to you boys to take the places of those who will step aside in a few years—so be good citizens and take an interest in your community. Think of the future and be prepared for the expansion that is coming to this section. We can grow, we have 19 acres in the township and you boys will be asked to take over in about ten years or so."

neck. Any man who sticks out his neck, asks for trouble, but he gets somewhere. You will get criticized but you must have a backbone to stand the criticism. But stick to your guns and you will achieve your goal.

"Don't have any division or clicks in your team because when you do, you will be conquered. Keep united and play the game honest and clean so that you will have continued success."

Players present were: James Morrell, Clifford Holgate, Lane Conn, Ralston Hedrick, Jr., Harry McGuckin, Jr., Allen Scheich, Louis Loeffler, Joe Dominick, William Moll, William Struble, Carl Barner, Harry McCaulley, who played with the team, is in military service while two others, James Marshall and Joe Ashby, are attending college.

WARRIORS POUR IT ON U. MERION HIGH SCHOOL TEAM

Bristol High really poured it on to Upper Merion High last night on the local court as the Warriors rolled up an easy 64-27 triumph over the Spartans.

It was the worst thumping handed to any opponent by the Warriors this season and the tilt served as a warm-up for the Bristol quintet which meets West Chester High in its opening PIAA tournament game next Thursday night at the Palmetra.

The game also closed the 1949-50 season for Coach Jerry Bloom's proteges who finished with a 12-8 mark. The season was successful insofar as the defeats were inflicted by such teams as Overbrook, Reading Central Catholic, Trenton Catholic (2), Allentown (2), Brown Prep, and Palmyra.

Coach "Tom" Campion's team was no match for the Warriors last night as it was outplayed from mid-way in the first quarter to the finish of the contest with the lead mounting as the game progressed. Towards the finish of the contest, Bristol at one time enjoyed a 38-point lead, the score being 61-23.

Bristol passed and made shots that seemed impossible. Frank Rich, Joe Pindar, and "Howard" Grant sank beautiful shots into the baskets with "Vic" Cauti dropping in two push shots and a set shot. The passing attack was led by Frank Barbetta, Marty Broom, and "Charlie" Rauch while during the contest, Coach Bloom used every player who was in uniform.

Only in the initial quarter was the game close. Upper Merion got off to an early 6-1 lead but were held without a point for the final three and one-half minutes of play, Bristol taking an 8-6 lead on a foul and field goal by Barbetta.

In the second session, Bristol lifted the lead to 25-15 and with Joe Pindar leading the attack, the edge jumped to 44-20 at the close of the third session.

Frank Rich had 19 points for the Warriors with Pindar having 15, Malloy and Collins had five points each for the Spartans.

2 TOP-NOTCH TEAMS SCHEDULED TO PLAY IN LEAGUE GAMES

BRISTOL BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Schedule for Tonight FIFTH WARD - PROFY'S ROHM & HAAS - FRANKLIN (R & H floor, 7:30 P. M.)

Standing

	Won	Lost
Profy's	9	2
Franklin	8	3
Rohm & Haas	5	7
Tullytown	2	9
Fifth Ward	2	9
Rohm & Haas	2	10

In the Bristol Basketball League double-header scheduled for tonight, the two topnotch teams will play the two tail-end teams. The games will be played on the Rohm & Haas floor, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Fifth Ward, now in fifth place, will play the league-leading Profy five in the first tilt of the evening, while in the second engagement Rohm & Haas plays Franklin.

To maintain its mathematical chance of getting in the playoffs, Fifth Ward must beat the radiomen tonight. The Warders are two games off from fourth position and have but three games remaining on the schedule. Tullytown, in fourth place, also has three more games to play.

After tonight, Rohm & Haas has but one more game and that is with Fifth Ward on March 8th. This game will eliminate either the Warders or the chemical mixers from any hope of getting the final playoff position.

Manager Dick Brown, who recently took over the reins of the Profy team, is anxious for a victory which will enable his boys to maintain their grip on first place. A loss to Profy and a Franklin victory will enable the latter team to move into first place.

HIGH SCHOOL J.V. QUINTET ENDS THE SEASON WITH A WIN

The Bristol High Junior Varsity quintet ended its 1949-50 season with a rousing 46-39 victory over the Upper Merion Jayvees last night on the high school floor.

It was the fourteenth triumph of the season for the Bristol Juniors against eight defeats. It was also the third straight triumph for the boys of Coach Harry McClister.

The local Jayvees took the lead about mid-way in the first quarter on a foul by "Jim" Gallagher. Upper Merion tied the count at 4-4 but Andy Accardi scored a foul and Bristol again went in front and managed to keep there the entire fracas. It increased its lead as the game progressed.

Bristol was ahead, 7-4, at the quarter and 18-12 at the half-way mark. The end of the third period saw the Junior Warriors in front by a 30-18 margin.

Frank Lucenti scored 13 points in the victory with Charlie Brady having 10. Wren, Stevens, and Holden played nice defensive ball. Baker excelled for Upper Merion.
